

NanoPro Reflected Energy Helps Increase Vital Microcirculation

NanoPro™ therapeutic products have been shown to enhance nourishing and cleansing microcirculation to living cells in targeted tissue and joint areas, the feet, plus the head and neck.

The natural science that occurs is as follows:

Our body emits our inner energy or 'chi' in the form of heat through very low frequency light waves in the invisible far-infrared spectrum (4-25 μm range).

This light energy can be reflected back to targeted areas of our body utilizing a proprietary ultra-fine, nano-scale ceramic compound, which has been embedded into all NanoPro materials.

The reflected natural energy has been shown to help vasodilate (expand) capillaries, improve the fluidity of blood cells and speed the flow of healing and nourishing blood to targeted areas.

In independent studies the NanoPro science has been shown to help:

- a. Reduce inflammation in sore and arthritic joints, such as the knees, elbows and wrists.
- b. Relieve sore low-back muscles, reduce strain and spasms and speed recovery.
- c. Enhance microcirculation in the feet and ankles to help relieve symptoms of peripheral neuropathy, reduce swollen tissue, plus helps to relieve sore joints and tired feet.
- d. Reduce the effects of stress in neck muscles, plus help improve nourishment and oxygenation to brain cells, promoting a deeper more restful sleep.
- e. Effectively kill over 99% of bacteria on the skin that can lead to odors and bacterial fungus, such as athlete's foot.
- f. Antibacterial effect with NanoPro Pillows will also help kill bacteria embedded into hair and on face, as well as exhaled onto pillow by oneself or a companion.
